A. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Case Management Pilot Program (CMPP) shall make available case management and associated services to non-detained, noncitizens known to U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE). This includes individuals who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued. The CMPP National Board, via Church World Service, Inc., as secretariat and fiduciary agent, will provide subawards to local governments and/or local, community-based service providers (hereinafter “subrecipients”) to provide trauma-informed and culturally and linguistically responsive case management and related services to eligible noncitizens. Services provided by subrecipients shall include and are not limited to: mental health services; human trafficking screening; legal orientation; cultural orientation; connections to social services; and, for individuals departing the U.S., assistance with pre- departure planning and/or referral to reintegration services (if and where available). CMPP subrecipients shall provide additional services, or connections to services, identified as priorities by CMPP participants and which may include, but are not limited to: access to counsel, housing assistance, childcare, transportation, school enrollment, health care, translation/interpretation services, job training, flexible funds assistance, and language classes.

Applicants must propose a community consortium approach, with one lead subrecipient, to provide CMPP services. A consortium includes multiple local, community-based providers all providing comprehensive services to different clients, or multiple local, community-based providers each providing different services to CMPP clients such that that all services are available to each CMPP client. Members of a consortia shall be the lead agency and its sub- subrecipients.

Through subawards under this solicitation, the subrecipient(s) will make available case management and other services as described above.

Subject to the availability of federal funding, sub-award agreements will be a minimum of $2,920,000 U.S. Dollars (USD) for a period beginning no later than November 1, 2024 and ending March 31, 2027. CMPP funds will be sub-awarded to local, community-based subrecipients working within a consortium, as described above, for work that is within targeted communities in the continental U.S. that have both high rates of noncitizens relative to the population and a demonstrated need for implementation of the priorities and objectives listed above. Locations where there is not currently a CMPP are encouraged to apply.

Applicants proposing to serve more than one location must submit a separate application for each location. Applicants are discouraged from submitting more than two applications.

Contact Person(s): For questions about this solicitation, email cmpp\_info@cwsglobal.org

Background and Program Goals:

The CMPP’s goals are to ensure that noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued have access to voluntary, supportive, and comprehensive case management services, including critical services such as mental health services, human trafficking screenings, legal orientation programs, cultural orientation programs, and other services that CMPP participants identify as priority needs; and that CMPP participants returning to their home countries will receive pre-departure planning assistance and/or referral to reintegration services (if and where available).

The CMPP provides an opportunity for the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) to evaluate the effectiveness of voluntary case management services for noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued, in a program that is overseen and managed through a National Board chaired by the DHS Officer for Civil Rights and Civil Liberties and composed of nongovernmental organizations with experience providing and/or evaluating case management programs for asylum seekers, refugees, and other noncitizens seeking immigration benefits in the U.S.

In addition, the CMPP provides an opportunity for DHS to assess the demand for CMPP services and for nonprofit and/or local government capacity to provide and connect voluntary participants to effective services. DHS will evaluate effectiveness by looking at what, if any, impact CMPP services have on participants' attendance at immigration court hearings, compliance with immigration obligations and orders, ability to secure legal representation, and ability to access a range of social services that CMPP participants identify as priorities through an individual, participatory, service-planning process.

Subject to the availability of federal funding, the CMPP National Board, through its fiduciary agent Church World Service, Inc., will distribute funds via subaward(s) to eligible local governments and/or nonprofits (hereinafter "subrecipients") and manage the national program.

1. Program Objectives:

- to serve a minimum of 6,000 individuals with a goal of serving 8,500 or more
- to ensure that noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued have voluntary, client-led access to case management services
- to ensure that noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued have access to critical services including mental health services, human trafficking screening, legal orientation programs, and cultural orientation programs
- to ensure that noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued have access to supportive departure planning and reintegration services, where available if they will be removed or voluntarily depart from the U.S.
- to ensure that noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued have access to other critical supportive services that they identify as a priority
- to provide an opportunity to demonstrate and evaluate the effectiveness of voluntary case management services for noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued

- to assess the demand for voluntary case management services by noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued
- to demonstrate nonprofit and/or local government capacity to provide and/or connect CMPP participants to effective services
- to evaluate the impact of providing CMPP services on participants' attendance at immigration court hearings, compliance with immigration obligations and orders, ability to secure legal representation, health, and wellbeing
- to evaluate the effectiveness of CMPP to provide referrals and facilitate connections to legal representation
- to evaluate the effectiveness of CMPP to provide access to a range of social services through a client-led, service planning process

2. CMPP Activities must include the following, at minimum:

1. Intake
2. Individual assessment
3. Individual service planning
4. Individual goal setting
5. Trafficking screening
6. Other screenings, as needed (mental health, legal, etc.)
7. Mental Health Services
8. Legal Orientation
9. Cultural Orientation
10. Flexible Fund Assistance, if needed
11. Referrals, as requested (social services, legal, etc.)
12. Follow up

CMPP providers should offer the activities outlined above to program participants for a period of no less than 90 days, and will be required to provide notice about upcoming immigration court hearings and ICE appointments for nine months from the date of their initial enrollment, or the conclusion of the contract, whichever is shorter.

3. Participants and Audiences:

Participants: Noncitizens who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued are eligible for CMPP participation. The CMPP program is voluntary.

Those who voluntarily enroll in CMPP will be removed/unenrolled from ICE's primary ATD program, Intensive Supervision Appearance Program (ISAP). CMPP participants will remain under ICE supervision and will be required to adhere to ICE check-in requirements and all other ATD requirements, except for technology monitoring<sup>1</sup>.

Eligible noncitizens will be offered enrollment in CMPP following a randomization process by CRCL and using three designated enrollment pathways as shown on Attachment 1, CMPP Enrollment Pathways and PII Data Sharing. Because there are many more potentially eligible participants than slots available in CMPP, randomized assignment to the program will support the most equitable allocation of this scarce resource. Randomization may also support future program evaluation. The three current designated enrollment pathways are:

1. In-person at ICE field offices or other CMPP-related locations: CRCL staff, located at sites where eligible participants check in with ICE, identifies individuals eligible for CMPP participation, randomizes the list of those potential participants, obtains a consent to share the potential participant's information with the subrecipient, and provides the subrecipient with contact information for those individuals randomized for participation. CMPP subrecipient contacts potential participants to offer voluntary enrollment in CMPP.
2. Telephonic: CRCL obtains a list of individuals who have been paroled, released on bond, are in Alternatives to Detention (ATD) programs, and/or for whom a Notice to Appear has been issued and eligible to participate in CMPP, randomizes the list, and provides the subrecipient with contact information for those individuals randomized for CMPP participation. CMPP subrecipient contacts potential participants to offer voluntary enrollment in CMPP.
3. Walk-Ins: Interested individuals may walk into subrecipient offices or other locations seeking assessment of their eligibility for CMPP participation. Subrecipients will provide CRCL with the names and A-numbers of interested individuals, so that CRCL can confirm eligibility, randomize for CMPP participation, and provide the subrecipient with confirmation of those individuals randomized for participation. CMPP subrecipient contacts potential participants to offer voluntary enrollment in CMPP.

The above enrollment pathways are subject to change based on ongoing evaluation by CRCL, Church World Service, and the National Board.

Neither the CMPP Board, Church World Service, nor the CMPP subrecipients awarded funding under this solicitation will provide information to ICE regarding program enrollment and participation, except to confirm enrollment in CMPP so that individual participants can be removed from ICE's Intensive Supervision Appearance Program, if applicable.

4. Performance Indicators:

The CMPP subrecipients will monitor and report on a variety of performance indicators that are

<sup>1</sup> For more information, see the Privacy Impact Assessment for the Alternatives to Detention (ATD) Program – Appendix A – Case Management Pilot Program, available at: DHS/ICE/PIA-062 Alternatives to Detention \(ATD\) Program | Homeland Security

Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant and Time-bound (SMART)<sup>2</sup> and relate to those individuals voluntarily enrolled in the CMPP. The CMPP National Board, through its fiduciary agent Church World Service, will aggregate, analyze, and report on performance data to determine individual subrecipient and overall programmatic performance.

Church World Service will create and maintain a central data collection system where each subrecipient will be expected to enter performance data and indicators.

Each subrecipient will be responsible for quarterly reporting on the indicators listed below, as available, and for the analysis of progress and/or impediments to reaching CMPP targets. The CMPP National Board via Church World Service will assess the quality of data reported by subrecipients as part of the award activities. Therefore, subrecipients will be required to engage and collaborate in periodic data quality assessments.

A minimum set of indicators are below and must be included in submitted proposals. Applicants are encouraged to outline additional SMART indicators that will enhance the understanding of the progress toward the achievement of CMPP goals. Applicants must include a Monitoring and Evaluation Plan that reflects these indicators and any additional indicators proposed by the applicant.

Applicants must also explain in the submitted proposals how they plan to maintain confidentiality and safety of Personal Identifiable Information (PII) of the participants. All consortia members receiving and/or providing PII will be required to adopt a Privacy Policy consistent with a forthcoming DHS policy and to comply with all DHS privacy training requirements.

<sup>2</sup> Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant and Time-bound. The first criterion, Specific, means that the indicator needs to be narrow and accurately describe what needs to be measured. Measurable means that regardless of who uses the indicator it would be measured in the same way. Achievable (or attainable) means that collecting the data should be straightforward and cost-effective. Relevant requires that the indicator be closely linked to the relevant outcome. Finally, Time-bound means that there should be a timeframe linked to the indicator (such as the frequency with which it is collected or measured).

Performance Metrics:

- Number of individuals enrolled in CMPP.
- Number of CMPP participants who were offered case management services, including how many participants received and how many declined services.

Additionally, the CMPP National Board and/or DHS may conduct a program process and/or outcome evaluation. A “process evaluation” assesses impact as well as examines program implementation, process improvements, and program development. An “outcome evaluation” assesses the effectiveness of the program relative to other forms of release for the non-detained population over time, examining specific data points and key outcomes. Subrecipients may be required to participate in such program evaluation activities, by meeting with evaluators to explain their role and program.

Personnel and Fringe Benefits: Describe the wages, salaries, and benefits of temporary and/or permanent staff who will work directly for the applicant on the program, and the percentage of their time that will be spent on the program.

Travel: Per U.S. federal travel regulations, estimate the costs of economy fare, refundable travel and per diem for this program, for program staff, consultants or speakers, and participants/beneficiaries. If the program involves international travel, include a brief statement of justification for that travel.

Equipment: Describe any tangible property (including information technology) that is required for the program, which has a useful life of more than one year and a per-unit cost equal to or greater than the lesser of your capitalization level for financial statement purposes, or $5,000.
